AT THE OPERA HOUSE

An Immense Audience Present at the Benefit.

SNUG SUM FOR THE SUFFERERS

Music, Melody, Eloquence and Charity.
The Entertainment, Under the Auspices of Haynes' Band, a Most Flattering Success.

Talk about your great audiences, and that presented at the Grand last night, on the occasion of the benefit given for the Nebraska sufferers, takes the entire cake, plate and all. At 7:30 every seat was taken and every inch of available standing room occupied, main room and gallery, even the aisles being packed. Hundreds of people were turned away, finding it an absolute impossibility to gain admission. The irrepressible Arab or street gamin was out in full force, while shrill whistles and cat calls resounded from all parts of the house. It was a good natured audience, however, and no disturbances occurred. The small boy was out in force, and he seemed to think that the occasion was one in which love, charity, mercy, forbearance, kindness and long suffering must of necessity predominate.

At 8:10 Rev. John Lloyd Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, stepped to the front of the platform and made a neat and pithy address, stating that the entertainment was given for the benefit of the Nebraska sufferers, under the auspices of Haynes' band. The reverend gentleman then put the audience on their honor to preserve good order by appealing to everyone present to act as assistants for this purpose.

Reverend Whitehead, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, led in prayer, and then Haynes' band rendered, in superb manner, "The Heavens Are Telling," winning hearty applause.

Next came the Gotschall quartet, Messrs. Gotschall, Brookes, McIntosh and Kane, in "Remember Thy Creator," earning golden opinions for most charming vocalization.

The M. E. church choir, under charge of Prof. J. E. Brookes, rendered "Kyrie Eleison" in nice style, to piano accompaniment of Mr. Ed Macrum.

"And There Were in the Same Country," double quartette from the Methodist Protestant church choir. Selection charmingly given. Piano accompaniment by Miss Barlow.

"By the Rivers of Babylon," choir of the United Presbyterian church, directed by Professor Gotschall; splendidly rendered.

Piano solo, "Stabat Mater," (Sweet Mother) by Mrs. Gertrude Griffith-Dix. This talented lady always wins warm approval from her audiences, and last night was no exception to the rule.

Cornet solo, "Nearer My God to Thee," by William Beardmore, accompanied by Haynes' band and choirs. This was a gem, and met with marked approval.

Then came remarks by Rev. J. C. Taggart, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, talking along the line of mercy and kindness toward suffering fellow men, showing up the failure of the crops in Nebraska and the horrible suffering consequently put upon men, women and children, appealing, in pathetic and heartfelt tones, for aid for these sufferers, stating that the people of East Liverpool had never been called upon in such cases in vain and never will be. The speaker then stated that he had talked long enough, and that he wanted talk which would count effectually in the way of voluntary contributions, as the collectors passed through the great audience.

Reverend Lee read from the platform the announcement of a contribution of $25 on the part of the Ladies auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association and led the applause which followed the generous offering.

They had the laugh on Doctor Gardner, one of the collectors in the gallery, by capturing his hat for the time being; but the jolly physician forgave them fully when his title finally came back to him, reinforced with a generous supply of dimes, nickels and pennies.

Solo by Mrs. J. C. Thompson, entitled "The Gate of Heaven." The talented lady was in splendid voice last night, and sang the appropriate and touching selection in a most charming manner.

St. Aloysius church choir rendered "Gloria in Excelsis," directed by Miss DeTemple, piano accompaniment by Miss Monte Hilbert. The difficult selection was rendered in splendid tune and manner, without a break or note of discord, and met with warm applause.

Solo by the colored songstress Miss Maud Smith, to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Gertrude Griffith-Dix. Miss Smith is always in demand at concerts and entertainments, and she did full credit to her reputation in last night's selection. There was an enthusiastic encore, and the singer was compelled to render a second song.

"Sanctus" was next given by the St. Aloysius church choir, and given in a manner very acceptable to those assembled.

"Te Deum Laudamus," St. Stephens' choir, all male voices, the majority of the members being mere boys; but the youngsters made rich melody, ably assisted by a few seniors, accompanied on organ by Mr. Thos. Bailey and directed by John Roberts.

Duet, "Holy, Holy, Holy Lord," by Misses Mame and Bessie Adams, to piano accompaniment of Ed Macrum. The little ladies made rich music. They are general favorites in our concerts and deservedly so.

"Gloria in Excelsis," First Presbyterian church choir, directed by John Stoddard, piano accompaniment by Ed Macrum. This choir did itself proud. It has artists in vocalization in its ranks, and they sang the glorious mass in magnificent manner.

Then came the announcement of the collection as follows: Gross amount, $137.75. Expenses, $13.50. Net amount for the sufferers, $124.25.

"Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," by Haynes' band and audience, and the glorious doxology rang out in superb manner.

Benediction by Reverend Whitehead and the grand charity concert was brought to a close.

Reverend Lee acted as master of ceremonies, and was master of the situation, holding the great audience in splendid manner, and keeping elegant order under the circumstances. It was 11 o'clock before the opera house was cleared.

LADIES AUXILIARY.

The Reception Last Night Was Indeed a Treat.

The ladies of the auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association never do things by halves, and their entertainment of last evening was no exception to the rule. The tables were spread with a tempting and appetizing lunch, backed with coffee. "It nectar for the gods," and full justice was done the repast by 75 ladies and gentlemen assembled in the gymnasium room. At the conclusion of the feast, fitting remarks were made by Rev. J. C. Taggart, Alvin H. Bulger and Secretary Will Morris. Mr. Bulger made mention of his recent trip to Cleveland, and of his conversation with one of the leaders of the Young Men's Christian association of the land, the latter speaking in warm terms of praise of the Ladies Auxiliary of East Liverpool, after being made acquainted with the splendid sum they had lately raised, assisted by the generous citizens of this city, for the benefit and aid of the Young Men's Christian association.

The socials given by the Ladies Auxiliary are rapidly becoming very popular. That of last night was indeed a pleasing success.

CUTTING DRESSES.

Vandals at Work in the Grand Opera House Last Night.

The dress cutter, that most contemptible specimen of thieves, was at work last night, and selected their victims among the vast crowd at the Grand Opera House. The crush was so great that there were many ladies unable to secure seats. Among these was Miss Allie Kinsey, daughter of Sylvester Kinsey, who resides back of Lincoln avenue, and when she returned home she found that somebody had cut the back of her dress into strips, while a large piece was sliced out of the bottom of the skirt. The dress was ruined.

Another young lady hurried away from the opera house upon making the discovery that her dress was in ribbons, but her name was not learned. No money was secured in either case.

Still Another.

And now another candidate for county commissioner looms up in the political field. He is Squire A. M. Norris, of Yellow Creek township, father of Dr. W. T. Norris, of this city, and one of the best known residents of the township. So far he is the nearest candidate to East Liverpool.

Spiritualists to Meet.

WHAT CAUSED DEATH?

David Rodgers Found Lifeless
Near Irondale.

HIS SKULL WAS FRACTURED

And There Were Several Cuts on His Body—His Coats Had Been Removed. Mayor Paisley Thought He Was Frozen to Death—Rumors of a Fight—Doctors Make an Examination Today and the Coroner Is Coming Next Wednesday.

Irondale is all torn up over the death of a mill man, David Rodgers, and the suspicion that foul play has been the cause of his demise.

On Tuesday night Rodgers and two companions, George Tolly and William Jones, hired Benjamin Hickman to take them in his sled to Lisbon, where they expected to get work in the new mill. They returned late and when Hickman, Tolly and Jones reached Irondale, Rodgers did not accompany them. Wednesday morning Rodgers' body was found at a desolate spot about a mile from Irondale. He had been dead several hours. He wore neither overcoat nor blouse, and there were several cuts on his face, while above his eye was a bruised spot, perfectly round. This at once created a suspicion that he had been murdered and the body was taken to Rodgers' home in Irondale, where Mayor Paisley held an unofficial inquest. He decided that Rodgers had been frozen to death. Some people were satisfied with the verdict. There was no proof beyond the marks on Rodgers' body that he had been roughly handled, and as he was said to have been drinking heavily, it was supposed that he had fallen unconscious and froze to death. But even had the decision been satisfactory there was another obstacle to accepting it. The body was found at a point some 20 rods from the line which divides Jefferson and Columbiana counties, and as if it were decreed that Columbiana should have all the mysteries, was in this county. Accordingly Mayor Paisley had nothing to say; in fact an inquest should have been held before the body was removed across the line. The coroner being more than 15 miles away and Squire A. M. Norris being the nearest justice of the peace, he was called on to take charge of the case. The inquest was held today and the squire's son, Dr. W. T. Norris, of this city, assisted Doctor Tarr in making the examination. They refuse to give out any evidence or opinion and until the coroner comes on Wednesday and completes the inquest at the home of Mrs. George Taggart, near Irondale, it will not be known how the physicians have determined.

From what can be learned from statements of people from the vicinity of Irondale, it was about 9 o'clock when Tolly, Jones and Hickman arrived in Irondale and reported that their sled had broken down on Taggart's hill and all had started to walk, but were nearly frozen. Hickman and Jones started ahead, riding the horses, Tolly and Rodgers following. The latter, however, was so badly overcome with liquor and the cold that he could scarcely walk, and Tolly hurried forward to avoid freezing, leaving Rodgers to make his way home as best he could.

Next morning Dalias Pittinger, of Wellsville, came upon the scene and found Rodgers lying in the road frozen to death, with neither coat on. He threw the coats over him and hastened to town to report his shocking discovery.

Mayor Paisley and A. W. Webber hustled into a sled and drove out to the hill after the body and R. M. Haugh was sent for to take care of the remains.

A careful inspection of the body and surroundings was made. Rodgers had evidently fallen down many times as he strove to follow his companions, and had fallen against a barbed wire fence at the road side, lacerating himself considerably, as blood marks were found on the snow. He lay on his face on the frozen earth and when lifted up an ugly wound was found on his forehead. Dr. Tarr examined this wound afterward and pronounced the skull fractured. The skull could have been fractured simply by falling down, but this has created suspicion of foul play. The fact too that his companions did not return to look after him, though, as is reported, they knew two hours later that he had not arrived, gives color to the suspicion of foul play. While the companions of Rodgers were hurrying home it is claimed that they met a man named Dennis, whose home is in Irondale and said nothing to him about Rodgers. This was at the cross roads. It is reported that the party were seen driving around between Yellow Creek school house and Glasgow apparently lost, although they say they were in Lisbon. One of the men is said to have had a sprained ankle and a swollen hand, which gives additional color to the belief that there was a fight.

David Rodgers was aged 59 years and leaves a wife and several adult sons, two of whom arrived home yesterday from Elwood, Ind., in response to a telegram announcing the sad news. The time of the funeral was set for today with interment in Chestnut Grove.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Meets and Reads Papers With More Gail Than Circulation.

The board of health held a brief but interesting session last night in Mayor Gilbert's private office, with Messrs. Purinton, Huston, Chambers, Kauffman, Ogden and King present. President Gilbert and Clerk Grosshans were in their places.

Huston and Chambers reported a new order of business which was unanimously adopted and which is as follows:

First, president shall call meeting to order; 2, roll call; 3, reading of minutes; 4, communications; 5, reading and referring of bills; 6, report of the health officer; 7, report of city physician; 8, report of standing committees; 9, report of special committees; 10, complaints from members; 11, unfinished business; 12, new business; 13, special business; 14, adjournment.

Then the following bills were read: C. B. Ogden, $7.50; Crisis, $26.20; J. Coleman, $9; J. T. King, $50; Mr. Brookes, $5; J. T. King, $50. There was a big kick on the bill of the Crisis and undoubtedly the board had good cause. One item was dated March 2, and another March 6, for which the sheet asked $6, while the third was for $20.20. This last bill was an outrage, and was so viewed by the board. It was for a statement made by the board on Dec. 22, and was given to both papers with the understanding that it would be used as news matter. Now the Crisis has the gall to send in a bill. Mr. Purinton said it was funny that the two March bills were let go nearly a year, and the board referred them back with the other one for explanation. Mayor Gilbert remarked, "You'll have to watch these people or they'll soak you." The sheet came in for a general roast, and it was plainly seen that the gentlemen were disgusted with the action of its proprietor. Mr. Purinton said he supposed if they insisted the board must pay it out of their individual pockets, but there would be an explanation first.

The bill of Otto Schmitzbauer for $8.50 for money due for work done for Ed Martin, was referred back, as the board thought Schmitzbauer could collect from Martin. The other bills were approved.

Health Officer Ogden reported the Hutchinson case settled and the board let it go without comment.

The health officers report showed 29 births, 14 males; 15 females; 25 deaths, 17 males; 8 females, causes of death: pneumonia, 4; convulsions, 2; typhoid fever, 2; dysentery, 1; meningitis, 2; old age, 1; membranous croup, 1; trinitis, 1; accidental, 2; heart failure; consumption, 3; catarrhal, 1; Bright's disease, 1; cirrho liver, 1; causes not given, 2. Removal of dead animals, 3; disposed of 6 dogs and one cat. At present there is a case of diphtheria, 8 of typhoid fever; 8 scarlet fever. Four quarantines for scarlet fever have been removed.

Mr. Purinton reported attendance at the state board of health, and spoke of the more important topics, as mentioned briefly in the News Review last week.

Health Officer Ogden said that several institutes had sent him circulars wanting the board to purchase anti-toxine. It was decided not to buy any unless a diphtheria scourge occurred, and the doctor will in the meantime find out where he can get the genuine article.

A case of scarlet fever was reported from the residence of John Hall. The health officer said the physician had pronounced it the sequel to fever.

The matter of garbage and impure water was discussed but no action taken and the board adjourned at 9 o'clock.

FIENDS INCARNATE.

Incendiaries Set Fire to the Deaconesses Home.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—Startling testimony was given at the coroner's investigation of the Deaconesses home holocaust, and it is believed that three fiends set fire to the building. The police have their description and are searching for them.

IT LOOKS LIKE A CASE

Evidence Strong Against the Zoellars Brothers.

AND STILL MORE TO COME

The Chinese Interpreter Arrives Today and Will Make it Interesting for the Alleged Assaults of His Cousin—Will Resume the Hearing at 4 o'clock Today.

If the balance of the testimony in the Zoellars case proves as convincing as that of yesterday, and it is expected to be even stronger, the prisoners will have slim chances for a victory in a trial at Lisbon.

The first witness called yesterday afternoon was the victim of the assault and robbery, Hum Sing. He speaks bad English, and it was found utterly impossible to make him understand in the language of this country the nature of an oath. A brother Chinaman, who, with a companion, runs the East Market street laundry, endeavored to tell him what the mayor wanted, but only got matters mixed up, and the interpreter made the thing worse if such was possible. Hum Sing thought they wanted to know if Zoellars was the man, and pointing to Dutch, who was seated within the railing alongside his brother and Attorney Brookes, repeated several times, "That the man; he got money." Finally Hum Sing saw a way out of the difficulty, and said his cousin in Pittsburg could talk good English, and he would telegraph for him to act as interpreter. He thought he could be here on the afternoon train today, and Mayor Gilbert decided that the best thing to do was to postpone the hearing until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Attorney Brookes' request to make it simply an adjournment and examine the other witnesses was granted, and the first witness, Miss Bird Manty, called. She said that on Wednesday night last about 8 o'clock she had seen Charles and Baltz Zoellars walking very slowly along Second street, talking earnestly. They were almost opposite the Chinese laundry when she passed within four feet of them, and were walking toward the railroad. She gave this fact no more than a passing thought, and hurried on to the home of Miss Wetzel, on Union street. Later, while standing outside the door of the home of a relative of Miss Wetzel, on Union street, Dutch Zoellars suddenly turned the corner and walked rapidly up the hill. She got a glimpse of the side of his face as he passed, and testified that she would know his back whether she saw his face or not. She remarked to her friend, "Gee, but ain't he a sifter?" Miss Wetzel asked who she meant and she replied, "Dutch Zoellars," and nothing more was said, although she had her suspicions after she heard of the robbery.

The state was not represented, and what questioning of witness was done on the side of the prosecution was done by the mayor. It was during the cross-examination of Miss Manty by Mr. Brookes that an amusing incident occurred. Witness said she saw Zoellars, as the electric light was burning. (This miracle alone is worth two columns.)

Mr. Brookes—How do you know the light was burning?

Witness—Well, because it was light there.

Mr. Brookes—Did you look to see if the light was burning?

Witness—No.

Mr. Brookes—Then how did you know it was burning?

Mayor Gilbert (to witness)—You don't have to answer these questions; they have no bearing on the case.

Mr. Brookes—Yes, sir, they have. I have a right to ask what questions I please, and the witness must answer them.

Mayor Gilbert—Well, you won't ask any more such foolish questions here.

Mr. Brookes—Your honor takes a position very unlike that of an official in your place. I insist that the question be answered. Miss Manty, how do you know that the light was burning?

Miss Manty—Well, because it was. I reckon I ought to know, and you don't need to get smart about it, either.

This ended the controversy over the electric light question, and after a few tilts between attorney for defense and witness, the only other witness was called. This was Edward Buchheit, son of John Buchheit, of Second street, aged about 12 years. He said he saw Dutch and Baltz Zoellars enter the laundry Wednesday night, and recognized Dutch at once as he looked around. He afterwards saw Dutch coming out, but Baltz did not reappear. Every attempt to shake the boy's testimony

HUNDREDS were unable to gain admission to the charity concert last night.

THE money raised for the Nebraska sufferers last night will accomplish much good. Loving charity is a grand characteristic of East Liverpool audiences.

THE heroism and devotion to duty displayed by Minnie Baumer, one of the nurses at the ill-fated Deaconesses home, Cleveland, destroyed by fire yesterday morning, was simply grand. She preferred death to the abandonment of a helpless patient.

THE conduct of the prison keepers in Georgia is inhuman beyond description, as per report of the grand jury, after thorough investigation. The suffering of the poor prisoners entrusted to the keeping of these brutes in human form must have been awful. Hanging is too good for wretches who would premeditatedly inflict such cruelties upon human beings.

THE NEWS REVIEW job office is turning out the very finest work ever printed in this section. First-class materials, a splendid assortment of type, most skillful workmen, combined with reasonable prices, tells the story of the road to success. The presses of the NEWS REVIEW are kept running to their fullest capacity. Old fogey ideas are relegated to those who do not possess sufficient intelligence or energy to keep out of the rut. The people appreciate good work.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY carries a mighty following for the presidential nomination. He is evidently the choice of the great masses—the people—on account of his protection principles and his strenuous and intelligent championship of protection to home and home industries. We believe that he deserves the nomination at the hands of the Republican party, and further believe that he can carry that party to a magnificent and overwhelming victory in case he is selected as standard bearer.

BRECKENRIDGE has again disgraced himself. Not satisfied with the undeniable notoriety gained by his connection with and treatment of Madeline Pollard, he yesterday indulged in a fit of ungovernable passion in the house, attempted to assault Representative Heard, of Missouri, intimidated the possibility of bloodshed through the medium of a duel, and conducted himself generally in a manner which showed that he is an unfit representative for a people loving law, order and decency. He should be relegated to a back seat in so far as national politics are concerned.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

Appointed to Examine the Annual Report for 1894 of the Commissioners of Columbiana County, Ohio.

To the Hon. N. B. Billingsley, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio:

The committee heretofore appointed by your Honor to examine the annual report of the Commissioners of Columbiana county, touching their financial transactions for the year ending August 31, 1894, beg to submit the following report:

We have examined said report with considerable care, and while we have not discovered any errors in the receipts and disbursements, yet, we think the report, as a whole, is not within the letter or spirit of the statute. In Section 917 of the Revised Statutes we find this language: "The County Commissioners, annually, shall make a detailed report in writing of their financial transactions during the year." We do not contend that this means that their report should contain a transcript of their journal for the year, but we do claim that it should contain a summary of the receipts and disbursements, and that it should be complete as to the full board of his per diem, mileage and expenses is not quite as full and complete as the law requires, and yet their reports recently filed are fairly within the spirit of the law and a great improvement on the reports of former years.

We find that Section 908 of the Revised Statutes regulates the compensation of the infirmary directors, and directs how they shall present their accounts for services to the commissioners. The statute divides their work into two parts, namely: "services in attending regular and called meetings and service in doing extra work." The compensation for each kind of service is allowed by the commissioners not to exceed $2.50 per day. The directors seem to be allowed for a great many days work in the official capacity, and their report to the commissioners does not show clearly what work they have done. They do not distinguish between the days in attendance at the regular and called meetings and the days employed in attending to the infirmary. It is difficult to understand how the public interests of the infirmary require the directors to work in their official capacity as many days in one year as their reports show, in addition to the constant services of the superintendent of the institution.

In the disbursements we find this item: "Paid for bridges and roads from bridge fund, $5,228.28." In this item, as it appears in the report, there is not much detail. It is an enormous sum to be paid for the taxpayers in this county. We think the auditor's office is not quite as complete in relation to the bridge fund as it ought to be. For instance an occasional order is issued by the commissioners, ordering the payment of more than one bridge. We think the orders should be so separated as to show payment in each particular contract. This for the most part has been done but we think in every instance it should be done again we think that every contract let for the building of a bridge or the improvement of a road should not only be kept on file, but that a brief record of the same should be made on the journal showing the date of the letting, the character and description of the work, the name of the party to whom let, and the price to be paid. This would give the taxpayers an opportunity of ascertaining the condition of the county's business by looking at the journal. This bridge fund should be handled with as much care and particularity as the county fund.

If the recommendations of a former committee had been heeded your present committee would have found the report much more satisfactory. Auditor Harvey is making headway in correcting many errors in the old methods of keeping accounts, and in time he will have a fairly complete record of the business of the county. His own official report published some time since is a model of excellence, and if followed in the future it will fill the letter and spirit of the law.

A. A. RAMSEY, J. C. MCINTOSH, W. S. BEAVER, Prosecuting Attorney.

NO DUEL, NO GORE.

Peace Arranged Between Heard and Breckinridge.

MUTUAL FRIENDS INTERMEDIATED

Both Gentlemen Apologized Before the House to Each Other and Shook Hands.

The Kentuckian Had Intimated That He Would Challenge the Missourian.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The encounter between Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Heard will not eventuate in blood. Through the intermediation of friends of both parties, Messrs. Goodnight and Berry of Kentucky acting for Mr. Breckinridge, and Mr. Dockery and Mr. Hatch for Mr. Heard, an amicable adjustment of the difficulties has been arranged. These gentlemen went carefully over the official report of the words uttered and agreed upon a form of apology that would be satisfactory to their principles. Accordingly Mr. Heard arose in the house and read a type-written statement to the effect that a careful examination of the words uttered made it evident in the opinion of his friends that after Mr. Breckinridge disclaimed the use of the language considered by him (Heard) offensive, he (Heard) should have withdrawn what he said. Mr. Heard said he thought he had done so, but his friends said he had not. "I consider it my duty to do so now," said Mr. Heard, "and now withdraw what I said."

Mr. Breckinridge then immediately arose and accepted the olive branch of peace. "I ought not to have gone to the desk of the gentleman," said he, "and made the statement I did. It was particularly unfortunate, considering the past friendship existing between that gentleman and myself. I express my regret in this frank manner to him and to the house. I profoundly apologize for a scene that should not have happened. No matter what occurred, I should not have resorted to it physically. I say to the house, and to the gentleman, that I exceedingly regret what has occurred, and crave their pardon." The house applauded Mr. Breckinridge heartily as he sat down. At the request of Mr. Goodnight the entire colloquy was stricken from the record. Thereupon Mr. Heard went over to Mr. Breckinridge's seat and the late adversaries shook hands.

As well as the tangle of confused events can be unraveled the encounter occurred in this way:

Mr. Heard, who was in charge of the District of Columbia business, cut off Mr. Breckinridge, who was attempting to address the house on the Hawaiian resolution by demanding the previous question on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Breckinridge immediately moved around from the side aisle in which he was standing to the tier of seats where Mr. Heard was located and hot words followed. Mr. Breckinridge protested against what he called Mr. Heard's rudeness. The latter declared he was only doing his duty. As the voices of the gentlemen rose members rushed thither.

"Impertinent puppy," shouted Mr. Breckinridge.

"Liar," hissed back Mr. Heard.

At the word the white-haired Breckinridge, who is a heavily built, stocky man, put his foot on the step on which the benches are located and let drive a right-handed blow at Mr. Heard.

Mr. Heard, who is a slight and apparently not strong, but rather tall man, with brown beard streaked with gray, dodged.

In another instant a dozen hands were extended to restrain the Kentuckian and the tide of members swept him 20 feet up the main aisle. But he continued to struggle and wrestle with his captors, Messrs. Pence and Outwaite.

The house and galleries were in an uproar. Bedlam had broken loose. Over it all the cracks of the speaker's gavel and sound of his attempt to quell the riot on the floor.

In firm tones the speaker directed the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the offenders. Colonel Ike Hill, the deputy, and his assistant, Mr. Robinson, grabbed the silver mace, the emblem of the house's authority, and rushed up the aisle. It was crowded with a seething mass of members. When they had elbowed their way to the scene of the combat, Mr. Breckinridge was still struggling with those who held him. His antagonist, Mr. Heard, stood calmly in his place. Misunderstanding Mr. Pence's attempt to quiet Mr. Breckinridge, who was trembling like an aspen with overwrought excitement, Colonel Hill and his assistant seized both Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Pence. "Not Pence," shouted a dozen members, "arrest Heard."

Mr. Heard was pushed into the arms of the deputy sergeant-at-arms. As the two men came together, Mr. Breckinridge made a desperate effort to free himself.

"You are a coward and a scoundrel," he yelled at Mr. Heard, but the stalwart Robinson roughly pulled Mr. Breckinridge forward, and the two representatives of the American congress were hustled, rather than escorted, to the bar of the house.

The speaker ordered all to take their seats. Many of the members did so reluctantly.

"Take it back," shouted Mr. Breckinridge, as he glared at Mr. Heard, who stood like himself, in custody before the bar.

"You called me an impertinent puppy," answered Mr. Heard.

Meantime the speaker, in stentorian tones, was driving the excited and

DAMAGING CHARGES.

An Investigation of Whisky Trust Books Made.

50 RECEIVERS WERE NEEDED.

The Man Who Made the Application Was a Stockholder of Record Only a Few Days—The Company Found to Be solvent—Greenhut's Big Revenues.

PHOENIA, Ills., Feb. 2.—The committee of experts which came down from Chicago to look into the books of the whisky trust, have returned to that city. They claimed to have secured evidence that the company was solvent, that no receivers were necessary, and that Mr. Olmstead became a stockholder of record only a few days before the application for receivers was filed. They assert that the testimony will be introduced in court at Chicago today to show that Olmstead, who is a clerk in the office of President Greenhut's brokers in New York, became a stockholder of record in the company only a few days before Olmstead and Berry filed the application for a receivership in his name.

President Joseph B. Greenhut, who was appointed one of the receivers, has, according to the examining committee, drawn beside his salary of $10,000 as president, one of $5,000 as manager of the Great Western distillery, one of the trust plants, besides various profits from co-operation and other contracts. It is asserted that a more complete examination will show that others of the officers and directors have been receiving very handsome remuneration for their services, and some of them have been paid large salaries for managing distilleries which have been closed down.

On the other hand, the friends of the management declare that all the talk of the committee is "newspaper talk," and that at the proper time the management will be heard in court in no uncertain manner.

Excitement Over a Gold Discovery.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 2.—The discovery of gold at the mouth of Little Cottonwood, 18 miles south of this city, is causing considerable excitement. Some of the assays run very high and old miners predict that Cripple Creek will have a new rival. The town site has been laid out under the name of Gold City, and prospecting in the vicinity is going on notwithstanding the very heavy snow.

The Militia Ordered Home.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 2.—The militia all through the city have received orders to return to their homes. A guard at each of the armories will, however, be maintained. A man named Dunn was shot by Policeman Cornelius while endeavoring to escape after having cut the wire on the Green Point line. Dunn's injuries, though serious, are not likely to prove fatal.

Cutting Will Have $400,000 a Year.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Robert L. Cutting, who was disinherited by his father for marrying Minnie Seligman, the actress, and who began a contest of the will before Surrogate Arnold, has made a compromise with the executors by which a goodly share of the family wealth will descend to him after all. He will have an income of at least $400,000.

China Buying War Materials.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—It is reported here that China has bought guns and war material to the value of 6,000,000 marks from Herr Krupp. A portion of the purchase is already aboard of two steamers, and the remainder will shortly be loaded. The crews of the steamers that will convey this material to China receive triple wages on account of the danger.

Taylor's Father Sued.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 2.—A special from Lafayette, Ind., says a suit has been filed in the superior court there by Attorneys Krumler and Gaylord, for the state of South Dakota, to recover of William Taylor, father of the late state treasurer, W. W. Taylor, the sum of $300,000, for which amount William Taylor was on his son's bond.

A Blizzard at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 2.—The city by the Kaw and the territory within 100 miles around it is again experiencing a blizzard. Nearly all of the passenger trains from the west have arrived at the Union depot behind time and the trainmen reported a heavy snowfall at several points in Kansas.

Lower Court Decision Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The United States circuit court of appeals has confirmed the judgment of the circuit court for $27,261 in favor of Benjamin F. Fisher, as receiver of the Spring Garden National bank of Philadelphia, against the United States National bank of this city.

To Help Defend Nanking.

HONG KONG, Feb. 2.—General Fung is going to march from Kwang-Tung with 5,000 troops, in order to assist Viceroy Chang in the defense of Nanking. General Fung was one of the Chinese officers who fought in Annam against the French.

TELLER GIVES WARNING.

The Silver Leader Says He Will Allow No Weak Financial Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The financial question again came before the senate as an incident to the consideration of the pending District of Columbia appropriation bill, and Mr. Teller (Colo.) took occasion to make an effective speech and to give the suggestive warning that he would see to it that so far as the present session of congress was concerned there should be no hasty or weak legislation on the lines now proposed. In view of Mr. Teller's recognized position as an authority among the element favorable to silver, the statement was regarded as having an important bearing on the situation. Mr. Teller's speech was also noticeable in pointing out that a constitutional provision existed against the plan suggested by Mr. Gorman, of adding a financial measure to one of the appropriation bills. Mr. Gorman explained that he had not intended to say that comprehensive revenue legislation could be added to an appropriation bill.

Mr. McPherson (N. J.) gave notice that he named today to call up the resolution discharging the finance committee from further consideration of Mr. Sherman's bill to provide temporary means of meeting deficiencies.

Most of the session was given to the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, without completing it.

CURTIS IN NEW YORK.

He Goes Back Again After Consultation With the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—After a consultation with the cabinet, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis has again gone to New York, but what his intentions were is not known, though it is assumed that nothing looking to a bond issue will be done until Mr. Curtis can confer with the New York financiers and communicate the result of his mission to the secretary.

The official report from Assistant United States Treasurer Jordan at New York, that although $1,257,500 has been withdrawn from the sub-treasury $1,800,000 in gold coin had been returned for currency, was received with much satisfaction and surprise. It is not known, however, whether or not this deposit of gold is the forerunner of others in fulfillment of an agreement between the bankers and the treasury officials. It is believed in some circles that the deposit was made in the ordinary course of business for currency to be shipped to western exporters.

THAT PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

It Overshadowed All Other Matters in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The personal encounter between Mr. Breckinridge (Ky.), who figured in the notorious breach of promise suit last summer, and Mr. Heard (Mo.), who has been a member of the house for ten years, overshadowed in importance all else that occurred in the house and was almost the only theme of conversation.

An hour was devoted to debate on the Pacific railroads bill, a resolution was adopted calling on the president for all correspondence and information regarding the alleged aid furnished the rebels in Hawaii by representatives of the British government, and the remainder of the day was consumed by the District of Columbia committee.

Quite a number of pension bills were passed, among them one granting a pension of $1 per month to Julia E. Lock, formerly wife of General Daniel McCook.

Has Credentials Signed by Kolb.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The credentials of Warren S. Reese as senator from Alabama signed by Reuben F. Kolb, claiming to be governor of that state, have been presented to the senate by Senator Allen. Colonel Reese was at the capital when the credentials were presented and was introduced to a number of Populist senators by Senator Pritchard of North Carolina. He was accompanied by an aged and illiterate colored man, John Washington by name, who was exhibited to the senators as a specimen of the election judges chosen by Democrats.

The Chickamauga Dedication.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Arrangements are being made for the dedication of the Chickamauga Military park next September, on a scale surpassing any kindred demonstration ever seen in the United States. The ceremonies will have a peculiar and popular interest, from the fact that they will be the first of a military character connected with the late war to which all of the states of the Union have been invited. Secretary Lamont has addressed to each of the governors of states an invitation to participate.

A Canal Bill Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Representative Dalzell (Pa.) has introduced a bill incorporating the Maritime Canal company of North America and to authorize the construction of navigable canals through the United States between the great lakes, the St. Lawrence river and the tidewater in the Hudson river. The fidewater in the Hudson river is to be in New York city, its capital stock is to be $10,000,000, it may have an interest bearing debt of $200,000,000 and is empowered to construct the works indicated above.

Do Not Favor Kurino's Objection.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Members of the senate who secured the amendment to the Japanese treaty making it terminable after a year's notice by either party to the treaty, are not inclined to consider with favor the suggestion of a reconsideration of the treaty on the objection which is reported to be made by Minister Kurino, that under this arrangement it could be terminated before it goes into effect, in 1899.

Officer Supplee captured a Hungarian on lower Market street yesterday afternoon, and escorted him, kicking and cursing, to the city jail. He was forced to use the nippers on the man, who was crazy drunk and scared several women badly. He swore at everybody about city hall and threatened to kill the officer. He beat his fists against the iron wall of his cell, while the Zoellars boys in an adjoining cell told him he could join their gang, but had better quiet down or they would come over and kick him out. He kept up the racket half the night, but was repentant and very meek this morning. He was evidently the companion of the one-armed tramp who occupied a cell the preceding night.

Evangelist J. G. Slater, of Buffalo, arrived here yesterday and preached in the Church of Christ last night. He spoke to a large crowd on the subject "True Religion." His sermon showed great clearness and power. The meetings are growing in interest and power. A number have already been converted. The following are some of the subjects on which the evangelist will preach while here: "The Christian Race;" "Alienation From God and Return to Him;" "God's Part and Man's Part;" "What is it to be a Christian;" "Safe Ground;" "Faith;" "Repentance;" "The Great Salvation;" "The Commonest Form of Infidelity." Meetings each evening at 7:30; sermon at 8. All are warmly invited.

LOOKS LIKE A CASE.

was of no avail. The suspicions of the authorities that Baltz departed by a rear door, while his brother went out the front way, seemed confirmed by the testimony. Mayor Gilbert set 4 o'clock this afternoon for a resumption of the hearing.

IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Important Cases Disposed of Yesterday. Court Notes.

Lisbon, Feb. 2.—The first case before the circuit court was that of John W. Russell and others versus The Citizens' Electric Light and Tower company, of Wellsville. They appealed to the authorities to reform a contract that was made by these parties that was sought to be made defective. The contract was the lease of land on Front street on which the plant is located. No defects were found by the court which could justify them in ordering it reformed. The petition to reform was therefore dismissed.

B. Edwards versus the N. U. Walker Clay Manufacturing company was decided in favor of the defendant, confirming the action of lower court. This case was originally brought to recover an amount said to be due for advertising in the American Contractor, of Chicago. Space was taken by the defendant for one year for the sum of $200 and then ordered stopped. This was denied by the prosecution.

The judgment in the lower court in the case of the Bailey-Farrell Manufacturing company, Pittsburgh, versus B. R. Little & Co., East Liverpool, was affirmed. In this case it was sought to hold Wm. Hamilton, East Liverpool, responsible as surety for a large amount of goods bought of the plaintiff by the defendant. Common pleas court directed against this, which decision was affirmed this morning.

The damage case against Lisbon, brought by Ross Elliott on account of injuries received by driving into an open ditch, was heard this morning, and a $500 judgment against the city, as rendered below, was sustained, without penalty.

Court Notes.

Lisbon, Feb. 2.—Letters of guardianship for the person and estate of Parker F. Newhouse, child of the late Elijah Newhouse, of Elkrun township, were granted today to F. S. Armstrong, with $200 bond properly secured.

The petition filed the other day to require the executor of the late Eliza S. Harper's estate, of Salem, to file new and sufficient bond, was heard today and granted. Twenty days was given in which to comply with the order.

The first and final accounts in the estates of Lydia A. Walter and of the guardian of Gertrude E. Dawes, filed today, will be heard March 1.

The case of E. B. Cooper and others versus Jennie Cooper and others was for defendant. Parties reside at Wellsville.

Next Week's Assignments.

Tuesday—No. 105, Margaret Layden versus Mary Ryan and others. No. 129, Frank S. Crowl versus the Gazette Publishing company. No. 141, in the matter of the dissolution of the Gazette Publishing company. No. 146, A. H. Clark, East Liverpool versus F. S. Crowl and others.

Wednesday—No. 155, the Salem Water company versus Norman B. Garrigue. No. 375, M. J. Stouffer versus S. T. Paulins and others.

Thursday—No. 538, the Robert M. Green company versus Joseph L. Luthringer and others. No. 845, S. H. Maneral versus Sophy Zimmerman and others.

Friday—No. 999, Porter W. Harbaugh and others versus Nicholas Way and others. No. 546, in the matter of the first account of Margaret A. Chandler and others, administratrix.

A Liverpool Woman After a Divorce. LISBON, Feb. 2.—Louisa Luepke, of East Liverpool, sued her husband Robert this morning for divorce, custody of two children and restoration of her maiden name. They were married in Berlin in 1879, but Luepke, who conducted a greenhouse here, left her several years ago.

Lights Went Out.

One of the proprietors of the Grand Opera House was quite indignant last night at the light company, on account of the lights being turned off just as the great mass of people were passing out of the house. Trouble might have ensued in consequence. The gentlemen informed the reporter that this turning off of lights occurs very often, at about the same hour as it did last night, causing much annoyance and grumbling on the part of patrons.

Fell Down Stairs.

Charles Martin, son of Robert Martin, of 265 Fifth street, arose about 1 o'clock this morning and started through his room to go down stairs. Blinded by the light from his parents' room he made a misstep and fell headlong to the bottom of the flight. He was picked up and helped upstairs when it was found he was badly, although it is thought not seriously injured.

His foot and knee was cut in several places and his shoulder bruised badly. The young man was unable to leave his bed today, and although no doctor has been called it is not thought there are any broken bones or internal injuries.

SCHELLER WILL WRESTLE.

He Accepts Allison's Challenge for a Match Here.

The prospects now are for a wrestling match here before February is ended.

The challenge of G. E. Allison, of Ellwood City, Pa., to wrestle Bert Scheller, of McKeesport, or any other man in this section, as published in the NEWS REVIEW Wednesday, was read by Scheller and this morning a telegram announced his answer. He wired Jack Robinson, of this city, that he would accept the challenge, and would be down tonight to cover the $50 forfeit which Allison put up with the Second street man, and will sign articles for a match in this city.

The Potters Meet.

The soliciting and general committees in the Potters' building and Hall company met in Red Men's hall last night and talked over the prospects for the proposed new building. A thousand copies of a prospectus explaining the plan had been printed and were given to the solicitors for distribution. The solicitors reported progress, and it was decided to hold another meeting of the two committees in two weeks.

Officials of the Brotherhood said last night that the statement in a local sheet to the effect that $7,000 had been subscribed was simply rot, and that the reporter for the sheet had been told as much before publishing it.

Crockery Buyers Here.

William Krenning, of the Krenning Glass company, St. Louis; G. A. Robin, of the J. S. Menkin company, Memphis, and W. F. Parker, of Parker & Co., Duluth, Minn., were in the city making big purchases of crockery today. George Hasbrook, of Hasbrook, Orr & Co., of Columbus, was here yesterday.

J. W. Vanfossan, traveler for Burford's, left at noon for an eastern trip. E. C. McVoy will start on an eastern trip tonight, and J. Howard Gresham will leave for South Carolina, both gentlemen representing the Sebring company.

Called Down.

At the meeting of the board of health last night, a would-be reporter for an obscure and unsavory sheet, of limited and circumscribed circulation, of great pretensions and meager merit, was called down in a peremptory manner by Mayor Gilbert for placing his feet on a desk in the mayor's private office. The cheeky and impudent young rascal attempted to argue the matter, but was concisely and curtly informed that a gentleman would not act in the manner he was doing. The pedestals went down on the run.

Warm Thanks.

The NEWS REVIEW has received thanks from those who take the lead in charitable work for publicity given to the charity entertainment at the Grand Opera House last night. The local and editorial notices were given gratuitously, while the fine program, printed on book paper, to the number of 1200 copies, did not take a single penny from the sum raised for the Nebraska sufferers, an employee of the NEWS REVIEW office raising the necessary sum to pay for said programs from the pockets of generous advertisers.

Mite Social.

The ladies of the Woman's Relief corps of General Lyon post, G. A. R., will give a social on Monday night, Feb. 4. This is a regular monthly jubilee for the organization, and the entertainments are really delightful, as can be vouched for by those who have been present in days gone by. The admission is but 10 cents, this small figure paying for lunch and jubilee. By all means drop in on Monday night, and bring your lady friends with you.

A Change Around.

James Wright, who has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania company for 23 years, was promoted to the position of gate keeper at the Broadway box the other day by section foreman Dennis Hickey, and Mike Payne, one of the section crew, took his place as trackwalker. Watchman John Montigny has moved to Cleveland, where he is working extras and tending gates.

House of Representatives.

D. J. Smith is now a full fledged candidate for the house of representatives, and his numerous friends are confidently predicting that he will make the rifle and land the nomination, which, of course, means election in Columbiana. D. J. would make an active, intelligent, honest legislator, looking carefully to the best interests of his constituents.

Two New Cases.

J. I. Hodson versus Annie E. Taylor, Squire Travis' court, is an attachment case for $81.25 rent and damage to building. Constable Albright attached a safe and other goods in the store of J. A. Norris today. Mr. Taylor lives in Jefferson and is a relative to W. G. Duval, formerly in the furniture business here. Hearing Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

Alfred Martin versus Clark Birch, in Squire Manley's court, is a case in replevin, a horse being in dispute. Trial at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Safety Gates Frozen Up.

The safety gates at the Broadway, Second and Walnut streets crossings were frozen up this morning and in one place a chain is broken. Section Foreman Hickey telegraphed to Wellsville to know what they would do. About the only plan will be to dig up the machinery, although no men have as yet been sent to do the work. The flag is being used instead of the gates today.

GROUND FOR AN APPEAL

A Rule by Judge Grosscup Making Trouble in the Debs Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Judge Grosscup's rule to permit but one attorney to cross-examine witnesses has led to trouble in the Debs case, and should the verdict be against the defendants it will play a leading part in an appeal. There are 18 defendants in court, represented in groups by six different attorneys. J. F. Geeting, who represents several clients, besides appearing for two others in the absence of Attorney Boyd for the court, attempted to cross-examine a witness and the court endeavored to enforce the rule, but later relented in order to permit Mr. Geeting to ask his questions because the witnesses were testifying directly against some of his clients.

Later Mr. Geeting desired to ask a question in cross-examination. The court declared that the witnesses had in nowise testified as to the participation of Mr. Geeting's clients in the acts named and he would not allow more than one attorney for the defense to cross-examine. A wordy argument followed, but the court was inflexible and exception was taken. Witnesses are testifying being ordered out by Debs and being threatened by other defendants.

REV. ANNA SHAW GOT MAD.

She Attacks a Baptist Preacher in the Woman's Suffrage Convention.

ATLANTA, Feb. 2.—The sensation of the Woman's Suffrage convention was a sharp attack on the Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorn, pastor of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, by the Rev. Dr. Anna Shaw of Pittsburgh.

She arose to a question of personal privileges, holding in her hand a copy of a morning paper. "I desire," said she, "to call attention to an error in this paper in the statement that I referred to Mr. Hawthorn when I mentioned that someone had said women ought not to vote because they were not taxed. I did not refer to Mr. Hawthorn. If the newspaper report of Mr. Hawthorn's sermon was correct, it was ungentlemanly, uncalled for and unmanly for him to go out of his way to attack a number of strangers. I did not answer Dr. Hawthorn. No lady will attempt to answer him. She can't descend to that plane."

Mrs. Drayton's Next Move.

TRENTON, Feb. 2.—At the hearing of the J. Coleman Drayton divorce case before the vice chancellor in Jersey City next Monday, the counsel for Mrs. Drayton will move to have her case referred to an advisory master, and will probably withdraw the application to amend the answer to her husband's charge of adultery. The advisory master will have the power to order the testimony taken in private. This course will serve to still further complicate the legal proceedings and may cause more delay.

The Charges Considered Absurd.

DANVILLE, Ind., Feb. 2.—The Rev. W. E. Hineshaw, whose wife was so foully murdered by supposed burglars at Belleville, three weeks ago, has been brought to Danville, charged with the murder. He has not yet been arrested, but he came voluntarily to avoid being brought in charge of an officer. The affidavit charging him with murder was sworn out by Detective Burns of Seymour. The charges are considered absurd.

Funeral Services.

Reverend Whitehead, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, will conduct the funeral services of the son of Samuel L. Pacey tomorrow, at 2 p. m.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. It was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at T. L. Pott's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

SUICIDED IN CHURCH.

New York Woman Found Dying in a Confessional Box.

NO REASON KNOWN FOR THE DEED.

An Evident Attempt on the Part of Those Interested to Conceal the Facts in the Case—The Woman Was Goodlooking and Worth $40,000.

New York, Feb. 2.—Two women in the church of the Epiphany on Second avenue, this city, heard the sound of a body falling followed by groans and gasps from a confessional box in the southeast corner of the church. One woman summoned the assistant sexton, who hurried into the church, and opening the confessional, found lying in a heap with blood flowing from her right wrist and throat, the almost lifeless body of a young woman. A doctor was called who saw that the woman's condition was hopeless, and 30 minutes after the discovery the woman was dead.

In a pool of blood in the confessional was found an old-fashioned razor. With this she had almost severed one of her hands and her throat had been cut from ear to ear. There were no services going on at the time.

An examination of the woman was made, and in her clothing was found a pocketbook containing 10 cents and a letter revealing her identity. On the envelope was written, "I am Catherine Morrison of 179 East 108th street." The letter contained nothing bearing on the suicide.

At the address given in the letter it was learned that the woman had boarded for six years with George Powers, an expressman, and his family. Mr. Powers took charge of the body. Mr. Powers said Miss Morrison was a religious enthusiast and of independent means. She was worth $40,000 and was a friend of his wife from childhood. Her father, who died when she was a child, had been a broker. Her mother had died seven years ago. He knew of no trouble which would have led the young woman to commit suicide. Miss Morrison was 31 years old and goodlooking.

At the church it was said that the woman had committed suicide within the edifice, and there was an evident attempt on the part of those interested to conceal the facts.

A CRAZY PREACHER'S DEED.

He Cuts His Wife's Throat and Shoots His Child and Himself.

AURORA, Mo., Feb. 2.—End Ellis, a farmer and Methodist preacher, living four miles south of this city, became suddenly insane, and after cutting his wife's throat shot his little girl through the head and then going to a farm where he formerly resided blew his own brains out.

He was a widower until a week ago when he married a widow named Ricman, who also had a little girl. The latter's life was saved by her being absent at school.

Robbed by a Negro.

CHESTER, S. C., Feb. 2.—W. R. Davis, a one-armed man, was going home with $100 on his person. A negro halted him. Davis drew his pistol, but the first shot missed. The negro knocked Davis' arm down and the second shot went through his own foot. The negro then overpowered him, secured the money and escaped.

The Bombardment Resumed.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—A dispatch from Che-Foo says that the bombardment of the island of Lun Kung Tau, off Wei-

Hai-Wei has been resumed. The Chinese are replying steadily. The Japanese appear to avoid firing at the Chinese fleet, with a view to capturing it undamaged.

FOUR LIVES WERE LOST.

The Fire in the Cleveland Deaconess Hospital Was a Fatal One.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—Four lives were lost in the fire in the Deaconess' hospital, a branch of the Christian institute at Chicago, established last October, in a two and a half story house on Jennings avenue. In it were 12 patients, four nurses and four laundry girls. The fire broke out at the heating furnace in the basement and shot up through the partition spaces to the roof in a few minutes, starting the house in a blaze as quickly as though it had been a box of kindling wood.

By desperate efforts the patients of the first and second floors were saved, though some of them may die of the exposure; but every person in the lower part reached only by a steep narrow stairway, met a horrible death. These were a woman patient, a foundling baby, a man patient who was strapped to his bed and a heroic nurse, who tried to save them, her charred body being found with one hand clutching the fastenings which held the man down. The lost are: Jacob Krause, carpenter, 60 years old; Samuel Allmayer, widower, 59 years old; Walter Clark, 32 months old; and Minnie Baumer, nurse, 32 years old.

Offers His Services to Mexico.

ATLANTA, Feb. 2.—Dr. George Brown, a nephew of the late Senator Joe Brown and a prominent young physician of this city, has tendered his services as surgeon to the Mexican government in case of war with Guatemala. Dr. Brown once lived in Mexico and speaks Spanish fluently.

South Carolina Sends Aid.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 2.—A car of the Washburn has left, carrying the first shipment of supplies from Charleston for the relief of Nebraska sufferers. It was forwarded by the Young Men's Business league, and goes to Lincoln. A second car load will be started on Monday.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF THE Probate Court of Columbiana county, Ohio, I will offer for sale, at public auction, on TUESDAY, the FIFTH day of March, 1895, upon the premises, and at the saleroom hereinafter mentioned, the following described real estate, known as and being the several lots hereinafter numbered and described, at the same place designated, and will be sold in lots and situated in the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana county, Ohio, to-wit:

AT 9 O'CLOCK A. M. (Legal Time). Lot number two hundred and eighty-five (285). Said lot fronts thirty (30) feet on Walnut street, and extends back therefrom on lot hundred and nine (100) feet to the alley. Appraised at four thousand ($4,000) dollars.

AT 2 O'CLOCK A. M. (Legal Time). The east rectangular half of lot number three hundred and forty-two (342). Said half of said lot fronts thirty (30) feet on Fourth street, and extends back therefrom on lot hundred and thirty (130) feet to Drury lane. Appraised at three thousand ($3,000) dollars.

AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M. (Legal Time). Lot number fifty-nine (59). Said lot fronts sixty (60) feet on Second street, and extends back therefrom, along Mulberry alley, one hundred and thirty (130) feet to Pink alley. The east twenty (20) feet of said lot is appraised at nineteen hundred dollars ($1,900). The west thirty (30) feet of said lot is appraised at thirty-one hundred dollars ($3,100). Said lot will be offered both as a whole and in the parts above designated, and will be sold in which ever way the same will realize the most money.

None of the property above described can be sold for less than two-thirds of the appraised value thereof. Terms of sale: One-third cash; one-third in one year; and one-third in two years from date of sale; the deferred payments to bear eight per cent interest from date, and to be secured by first mortgage on premises sold.

JAS. H. B. BROOKS, Executor of the Estate of Elizabeth Cart
